11th Annual Hawaii Conference: Preventing, Assessing & Treating Child, Adolescent & Adult Trauma

Agenda

Tuesday, March 11, 2014

Pre-Conference-All Day (9:00 am-4:30 pm)

9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

PC 1: Parent-Child Interaction Therapy

Anthony Urquiza, Susan Timmer
This presentation will provide an overview of Parent-Child Interaction Therapy (PCIT) and its role in 1) decreasing child behavior problems, 2) improving parenting skills, and 3) enhancing parent-child relationships. In addition, recent research has demonstrated that PCIT is effective in reducing trauma symptoms in young children. Recently, the UC Davis PCIT Training Center has completed the 'PCIT for Traumatized Children' web course - which is designed to train child therapists in the basic elements of delivering PCIT. This presentation will provide a description and access of the 'PCIT for Traumatized Children' web course to offer conference participants the opportunity to learn about PCIT knowledge and skill acquisition.

9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

PC 2:¤ Risking Connection: An Introduction

Joey Keahiolalo, Angie Doi
¤Cultural Session. In order to heal, traumatized children, adults and elders need to risk forming connections with caring treatment providers that are different (enough) from those of the past. They need relationships that are RICH – Respectful, Informative, Connected, and Hopeful. Forming such relationships is no easy task because of the extreme behaviors survivors display, the powerful feelings they evoke in us, and their ambivalence about getting close to us. Risking Connection is a curriculum-based training program created to provide mental health and human service professionals at all levels with a philosophy and method for working with clients who are survivors of childhood abuse and trauma. This workshop will provide an introduction to the Risking Connections approach, including some adaptations of the curriculum to incorporate and celebrate Hawaiian Cultural values that have been developed by Child and Family Service staff in Hawai`i.

9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

PC 3: Prosecution of Child Abuse & Exploitation at Court-Martial

Sasha Rutizer, Jennifer Pierce-Weeks
The Prosecution of Child Abuse and Exploitation at Court Martial training is designed to teach skills that cover the following topics: Definitions of child abuse, neglect and exploitation, including child sexual abuse; indicators of maltreatment in children; the importance of the medical forensic examination by competent child abuse professionals; what can and cannot be determined by the medical/forensic sexual abuse evaluation; the effects of maltreatment on children; and techniques that can improve overall prosecution rates. The aforementioned skills will be woven into the unique system that is the Military Justice System with specific discussions on the Military Rules of Evidence and the Rules for Courts-Marital. The target population for the training is military prosecutors.

9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

PC 4:Walking the Walk: Creative Tools for Transforming Compassion Fatigue & Vicarious Trauma

Leslie Anne Ross, Adriana Molina, Françoise Mathieu
Compassion fatigue and vicarious trauma are characterized by deep emotional and physical exhaustion and by a shift in a helping professional's sense of hope and optimism about the future and the value of their work. Compassion fatigue has been called a disorder that affects those who do their work well (Figley 1995). The level of compassion fatigue a helper experiences can ebb and flow from one day to the next, and even very healthy helpers with optimal life/work balance and self-care strategies can experience a higher than normal level of compassion fatigue when they are overloaded, are working with a lot of traumatic content, or find their case load suddenly heavy with clients who are all chronically in crisis. Compassion fatigue and vicarious trauma are normal consequences of working in the helping field. The best strategy is to develop excellent self-care strategies, as well as an early warning system that lets the helper know that they are moving into the caution zone of Compassion Fatigue and Vicarious Trauma. This is a highly interactive one day workshop, incorporating a combination of solo, small group, and whole group activities.

9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

PC 5: Understanding & Utilizing the DSM-5 & ICD-10 Diagnostic & Statistical Systems

Jennifer DeFeo

This workshop aims to educate the student and professional population on the changes and additions to the DSM-5 and ICD-10 systems and how to incorporate them into both clinical and educational settings. Controversies and new American Psychiatric Association (APA) assessments, such as the Cultural Formulation Interview (CFI) and World Health Organization Disability Assessment Scale (WHODAS) will also be discussed.

Pre-Conference AM Only (9:00 am-12:00 pm)

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

PC 6: Child Abuse & Faith

Victor Vieth

(to be paired with #8's half-day afternoon workshop)

This issue will discuss the impact of abuse on a child's sense of spirituality and how faith and child protection leaders can work together to address this dynamic. The presentation will also discuss conflicts between child protection and some faith communities over the issue of corporal punishment. To address this latter subject, the presentation includes a case study and offers suggestions for working together in cases of physical abuse. A model for collaboration between faith and child protection professionals on prevention and other initiatives will also be offered.

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

PC 7:Conducting Child Custody Evaluations:Specific Questions, Techniques, & Controversial Issues

Robert Geffner, Cheri Tarutani, Steven Bucky, Richard Ducote - Discussant

(to be paired with #9's half-day afternoon workshop)

Conducting child custody evaluations requires specific expertise and techniques, especially in abuse and high conflict cases. The presenters are experienced in such cases, representing the psychological, social work and legal fields. Specific suggestions for interviewing children and adults, assessing them, reviewing collateral records and sources, and report writing will be presented. Pitfalls to avoid are also discussed. Meets part of the requirements for Child Custody Evaluator certification.

Pre-Conference PM Only (1:30 pm-4:30 pm)

1:30 PM - 4:30 PM

PC 08: Domestic Violence & Faith

Rev. Aldean Miles

(paired with #6's half-day morning workshop)

Domestic Violence is the number one public health issue for women living in the United States. Victimized women from various faith and religious traditions will turn frequently first to spiritual leaders and congregation members when seeking help. Often, however, both clergy and laity are ill-prepared to respond to the needs of victims-survivors, and also lack the proper tools to help hold perpetrators accountable.

1:30 PM - 4:30 PM

PC 09: Ethical Issues & Practices in Child Custody Cases

Steven Bucky, Robert Geffner, Leslie Drozd, Mary Harb Sheets

(paired with #7's half-day morning workshop)

This workshop will focus on the ethics involved in the child custody process. The focus will be on informed consent, confidentiality, practicing out of areas of expertise, custody evaluations, misrepresentation of data, and bias. Ethical issues that lead to licensing board and ethics complaints will be discussed. Case examples will be presented. Meets part of requirements for Child Custody Evaluator Certification, as well as Ethics requirements.
